

CONSULTING SERVICES

Our telecom experts understand your industry and many of the challenges that you face. From strategy and planning to implementation, we help our clients deliver results. Our assessments and roadmaps get you on the right track fast, avoiding delays or rework. You can engage us in a variety of areas.

Advisory Services

WaveStar provides expertise and advice in the areas of strategy and planning, technology, implementation and operation of telecom networks. Our consultants understand the challenges of improving bottom line results in your industry and in today's highly competitive marketplace. We help customers exploit new technologies and improve operational effectiveness.

Technology Planning

This service helps align your short-term and long-term goals with specific technology solutions. It can apply to new products, processes or to an emerging technology. Once we conduct a needs analysis, our consultants can help you forecast technology requirements, determine short and long term objectives, and develop a framework to plan and coordinate the rollout.

Project Delivery

From small well-defined projects to large complex programs, we can bring in the necessary project management methodologies, tools and highly skilled resources to deliver stand alone engagements or augment your existing team. Right from project inception to implementation, we bring the right combination of industry expertise and skills to deliver a successful outcome.

Network Audits and Assessments

Inaccurate network records can add unnecessary costs and delays to your business. Our experienced consultants have in-depth telecom knowledge and comprehensive network audit experience. Some of our services include: records reconciliation and verification, physical network audits, fibre audits, logical network audits and capacity management.

RFP Development

Get support in producing RFPs that reflect your needs, in a precise and complete manner. We help ensure that quality services and products will be delivered at the lowest possible price. Engage experienced consultants from your industry, who will transform unstructured client information to final RFP versions that are easier and less time consuming to review.
